

Employment Health Screening Services

unitedag
HEALTH & WELLNESS CENTER

Our Health & Wellness Centers now offer
employment health screening services

Why do all employees need a health screening?

To evaluate an employee's ability to perform their job duties without jeopardizing the safety of themselves, coworkers, or others.

To provide baseline information on current illnesses or injuries which may require worksite modification.

To give you information on physical safety and health promotion at your organization, along with any health-related information specific to your employees' duties.

If you are interested in incorporating these services in your workplace health program, please contact our Client Services team at 800.223.4590.

Note: Services are not performed by UnitedAg or United Agricultural Benefit Trust. Services are rendered by Elite Corporate Wellness at the UnitedAg Health and Wellness Centers.
